1. Applicant should note the changes to patent practice and procedure:
  - A) effective December 01, 1997 as published in the Federal Register, Vol 62, No. 197, Friday October 10, 1997;
  - B) effective November 07, 2000 as published in the Federal Register, Vol 65, No. 54603, September 08, 2000; and
  - C) Amendment in revised format, Vol. 1267 of the Official Gazette published February 25, 2003.
2. The drawings are objected to because
  - A) the following errors have been noted in the drawings:
    - (1) The drawings are objected to as failing to comply with 37 CFR § 1.84(p)(5) because they do not include the following reference sign(s) mentioned in the description:
      - (a) reference number 105 as disclosed in the paragraph between page 36, line 6, and page 37, line 2, "From the labeler 95 ... conveyor 105 ... and applied label of the piece.";
- 2.1 A proposed drawing correction or corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.
- 2.2 Applicant is required to submit a proposed drawing correction in reply to this Office action. However, formal correction of the noted defect may be deferred until after the examiner has considered the proposed drawing correction. Failure to timely submit the proposed drawing correction will result in the abandonment of the application.
3. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities:
  - A) applicant must update:
    - (1) the application data in the paragraph:
      - (a) between page 29, line 13 and page 30, line 4, "Although the computer ... U.S. Application No. 09/816,687 ... application No. 09/816,687 ... reader 80 and labeler 95."; and

(b) between page 35, line 8, and page 36, line 4, "If the computer ... No. 09/816,687 ... piece cannot be determined."; with the current status of each of the referenced applications, e.g., --now abandoned--, or --now patent #?--, or --which is abandoned and now serial number #?--, etc.

B) as required by 37 CFR § 1.84(p(5)) and 37 CFR § 1.121(e) the specification lacks an explicit reference to the nature of:

(1) reference legend(s):

(a) 28 & 58 of fig. 5, note the use of motor 58 in fig. 6, (page 19, lines 11—15, "A reversible motor 58 ... motor 58 ... motor 58 ... back to the feeding station 20.";

In this regard, it is noted that merely mentioning a number with out mentioning the device or operation of the step relies on the drawing to provide support for the disclosure and not to aid in the understanding of the invention, as is the purpose of the drawings (37 CFR § 1.81(a,b)).

C) the following errors have been noted in the specification:

(1) as can be seen in figs. 1-4 & 9 and from the context of the paragraph at page 9, lines 8-17, "As mentioned above, conveyor 22 ... conveyor motor 27 ... conveyor motor 22. More ... feed sensor 24 described above.", at line 7 of this paragraph as amended June 27, 2003 the reference to "conveyor motor 22" should be --conveyor motor 27--.

Appropriate correction is required.

4. The specification and drawings have not been checked to the extent necessary to determine the presence of all possible minor errors. Applicant's cooperation is requested in correcting any errors of which applicant may become aware in the specification or drawings. Applicant should note the requirements of 37 CFR § 1.74, § 1.75, § 1.84(o,p(5)), § 1.121(a)-1.121(f) & § 1.121(h)-1.121(i).

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. § 103 which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

Art Unit: 3629

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

(c) Subject matter developed by another person, which qualifies as prior art only under subsection (f) or (g) of section 102 of this title, shall not preclude patentability under this section where the subject matter and the claimed invention were, at the time the invention was made, owned by the same person or subject to an obligation of assignment to the same person.

5.1 Claims 1, 2, 6-8, 10, 11 & 13-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 103(a) as being unpatentable over either Connell et al (EP 0326228 or 5,005,124) or Sansone et al (5,008,827) or Metelits et al (5,119,306) or Gil et al (6,477,514) in view of either Sansone et al (5,925,864) or Didriksen et al (2001/0042055) or Thiel (6,321,214).

5.2 Claims 1-8 & 10-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 103(a) as being unpatentable over Uno et al (5,535,127) in view of either Sansone et al (5,925,864) or Didriksen et al (2001/0042055) or Thiel (6,321,214).

5.3 In regard to claims 1, 2, 6-8, 10, 11 & 13-18, either Connell et al ('228 or '124) or Sansone et al ('827) or Metelits et al ('306) or Uno et al ('127) or Gil et al ('514) disclose a mail processing system that includes the following elements:

A) a conveyor system for transporting the items of mail through the mail processing system,;

B) a scale for weight the item of mail as the mail is conveyed through the mail processing system;

C) a scanner, for scanning the address information on the item of mail as the mail is conveyed through the mail processing system;

D) a labeler/printer, for applying information to the items of mail as the mail is conveyed through the mail processing system;

Art Unit: 3629

E) a processor for determining the correct amount of postage for the item of mail based on the destination address and weight; and

F) a postage meter for applying the correct amount of postage to the item of mail as the mail is conveyed through the mail processing system.

5.3.1 In regard to the claimed use of labels, neither Connell et al ('228 nor '124) nor Sansone et al ('827) nor Metelits et al ('306) nor Uno et al ('127) nor Gil et al ('514) disclose printing the information on a label which is then applied to the item of mail, however, as clearly taught by either Sansone et al ('864) or Didriksen et al ('055) or Thiel ('214) the labeler/printer of the mail processing system may apply the information to the items of mail by printing the information either:

A) directly to the item of mail, or

B) directly on a label that is applied to the item of mail, as the mail is conveyed through the mail processing system. Hence, from the teachings of either Sansone et al ('864) or Didriksen et al ('055) or Thiel ('214) the printing of the information by either method of:

A) directly to the item of mail, or

B) directly on a label that is applied to the item of mail, is functionally equivalent to the other method of applying information to items of mail. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill at the time the invention was made that the mail processing systems of either Connell et al ('228 or '124) or Sansone et al ('827) or Metelits et al ('306) or Uno et al ('127) or Gil et al ('514) could be modified to apply information to a label that will be applied to an item mail as taught by either Sansone et al ('864) or Didriksen et al ('055) or Thiel ('214).

5.3.2 In regard to claims 3-5 & 12, the image scanner of Uno et al ('127) complete an image of the item of mail by combining a number of discrete line scans of the item of mail.

5.3.3 In regard to the sorting function of claims 5-8, note that some of the processed mail is rejected and other items of processed mail are sent to the Postal system.

5.2 Claim 9 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 103(a) as being unpatentable over either Connell et al (EP 0326228 or 5,005,124) or Sansone et al (5,008,827) or Metelits et al (5,119,306) or

Art Unit: 3629

Uno et al (5,535,127) or Gil et al (6,477,514) in view of either Sansone et al (5,925,864) or Didriksen et al (2001/0042055) or Thiel (6,321,214).

5.2.1 In regard to claim 9, neither Connell et al ('228 nor '124) nor Sansone et al ('827) nor Metelits et al ('306) nor Uno et al ('127) nor Gil et al ('514) disclose re-orientating the item of mail during the processing, however, York et al ('392) discloses that in mail processing systems it is sometimes necessary to re-orientate item of mail so that the item of mail may be processed by the mail processing system. Hence, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill at the time the invention was made that the mail processing systems of either Connell et al ('228 or '124) or Sansone et al ('827) or Metelits et al ('306) or Uno et al ('127) or Gil et al ('514) could be modified to include the use of an re-orientation means so that the items of mail may be properly processed as taught by York et al ('392).

6. Response to applicant's arguments.

6.1 All rejections and objections of the previous Office action not repeated or modified and repeated here in have been over come by applicant's last response.

6.2 As per the objections tot the drawings and disclosure, since applicant either failed to address or correct the noted defects, these objection have been maintained.

6.3 As per the 35 U.S.C. § 103 rejection, since:

A) since the claims fail to recite a limitation that would limit the claimed invention to a particular aspect of the mail delivery and processing system, the claimed invention may be al any point of the mail delivery and processing system.

Hence, applicant's argument's are non persuasive.

7. The shorten statutory period of response is set to expire 3 (three) months from the mailing date of this Office action.
